1 Information about the Course Guide

In this Course Guide you will find all of the courses taught in English in summer semester 2025 from our ten Bachelor's and nine Master's programs. Detailed information on the course contents is also included.

How to select your courses?

There are three possible ways to choose your semester courses:

- 1. you can choose one of the International Semester Programs (ISP), or
- 2. create your own study plan by choosing courses from CIEM and/or the degree programs, or
- 3. combine an ISP with some individual courses.

International Semester Programs (ISP)

This is the easiest and most comfortable way to choose your courses and brings many advantages.

- No course overlap: we can guarantee that you will have no overlaps in your schedule.
- Preferential registration: students who select an ISP will be ranked first, above others who have selected individual courses only.
- ISPs are taught entirely in English.
- Students enjoy maximum flexibility when selecting an ISP: you select one ISP and can still combine it with individual courses.

All International Semester Programs are listed in chapter 2. A detailed description of the courses can be found in Chapter 4.

Compose your own study plan

If you decide to compose your own study plan, you can choose and combine individual courses from different departments. Please note that in this case there may be time clashes, which we will discuss with you during Virtual Orientation Week. All selectable courses for your study plan are listed in chapter 3. In chapter 4 you will find a detailed description of these courses.

Please check each course description for any specific registration requirements.

Please note that courses from the Journalism and Content Production programs are recommended for those majoring in a similar program at their home university! For most of the courses offered, a communication-based degree program and a high interest in media is required – please look at each course individually.

Course allocation

As only a limited number of places are available for each course, the spots will be assigned on a "first come first served" basis.

Please note: students who have selected an ISP are given preferential treatment and their course selection will be processed first.

How to use this Guide

Chapter 2 describes all International Semester Programs (ISP); chapter 3 provides an overview of all individual courses. Detailed course descriptions (of the courses listed in chapters 2 and 3) can be found in chapter 4. Within a department, you will find the Bachelor's courses (highlighted in light blue) grouped together and the Master's courses (highlighted in purple) grouped together. To book Master's courses you need to study at Master's level at your home university.

This Course Guide is only valid for the semester mentioned above. The course offer may vary in future semesters. Please note that material costs (e.g. for books) may be incurred.

How many credits can I choose?

Whether you choose an ISP or choose to compose your own study plan, you can choose a minimum of 20 credits and a maximum of 36 credits. In the Preliminary Course Selection, you will be able to choose up to two backup courses.

German courses

All CIEM German courses are free of charge and are held by native speakers. If you are a complete beginner, choose an A1/1 course. If you have some knowledge of German, pick the course that you think best suits your level.

How can you assess your German level:

Do the self-assessment test at https://www.hueber.de/menschen/einstufungstest or https://academy.europa.eu/.

In the first unit, the lecturer will ascertain whether the course level is the right one for you. If it is not, you can change over to another group.

2 International Semester Programs (ISP)

We offer 8 International Semester Programs (ISP 1 to 8). These programs are the most comfortable way for your course selection since the courses are optimally coordinated and do not overlap. Please select one of the programs below. If you select an ISP of less than 30 ECTS credits you can combine it with individual courses from this Course Guide, to reach e.g. 30 ECTS credits.

Courses of the packages may also be booked individually. See chapter 4 for detailed course descriptions.

| Course Type                    | Individual course & Part of International Semester Program (ISP; see chapter II)  |
| Credits Semester in Curriculum | 5 ECTS  This course is recommended for students at higher Bachelor's or Master's level.   |
| Method ofInstruction       | The instructor employs the Socratic Method in teaching this class. Rather than simply the traditional lecture, the teacher will be asking questions and providing cases and examples to encourage the student's participation and to facilitate a deeper understanding of the course material. Rather, we will build the discussion on answers given.   |
| Method ofAssessment        | Each student will be assigned to a group, to present a project before the class. The cases will be handed out early in the session. The project will consist of a written analysis and a 5 to 7-minute presentation, followed by a 5-minute Q&A. The intent is for the students to amplify on materials covered in the course, applying this material to a "real" situation using PowerPoint, and/or other creative and entertaining delivery vehicles. Thoroughness, objectivity and articulation will be the basis for the grade given.  The students will be asked to submit short synopsis of significant articles  |
|                                | provided through the Moodle site.  The final exam will be multiple choice questions short answers and a short case and will be comprehensive. Students will be responsible for learning both the reading, and information provided by class discussions and group case presentations  |
| Course Objectives              | <ul> <li>Understand the change process, the dynamic nature of the business environment, and the resultant effects of rapid change on an organization and its stakeholders.</li> <li>Understand the basic causes of change, and resistances to change, in the business world.</li> <li>Learn the methods of effectively anticipating, influencing and implementing change in corporate settings with differing corporate cultures</li> <li>Understand the role of leadership in effectively managing change</li> </ul>   |
| Content                        | The rapidly changing technological and global markets present business managers with new opportunities and challenges that require "out of the box" thinking and decisions. With this in mind, we will explore many of the issues organizations face in trying to achieve their strategic objectives and satisfy the needs of their customers, beginning with a discussion of general principles and then addressing more specific strategies and tactics as the semester progresses. Readings will provide much of the framework for the course. Though ESCEM students are not required to purchase the two texts, most of the class information and theory will be derived from them. Critical chapters will be available on the Moodle site along with other critical and very current writing in the area of change management. |

The main focus is the combination of information technological and organizational/commercial requirements, including planned communication with all stakeholder groups.  |
| Content                 | This module covers the design, implementation and planning of information systems operation with reference to actual projects (e.g. for a Web CMS). This will convey the coordinated perception and functionality of product management, among other factors. This unit focusses on smaller IS and realizing these with the use of standard software.  • Project planning (including selection of process models such as agile models and processes)  • Requirements engineering or current dynamic processes  • Procurement  • Design  • Implementation (especially customizing and configuration)  • Quality assurance (including quality models, testing procedures, documentation)  • Change management. |
